Overview of APEGGS' New CPD Program and Ethics Presentation

An Evening Session on August 29th

The importance of Continuing Professional Development (CPD) has increased in recent years from the perspective of both the public and self-regulating professions. The new CPD changes include an annual ethics component, annual reporting and a compliance review program.

The Saskatoon Engineering Society (SES) is pleased to announce that they are holding an evening session called “Overview of APEGGS' New CPD Program and Ethics Presentation” on the Wednesday evening of August 29, 2018 in the Upper Lounge at the Saskatoon Club (417 21st St E, Saskatoon, SK S7K 0C5) from 5:30 pm to 6:30 pm.

Shawna Argue, P.Eng., MBA, FEC, FCSSE, FGC(Hon), APEGGS Director of Registration will be presenting an overview of the requirements to comply with the new APEGGS CPD Program coming into effect January 1, 2019.

Part of the new program includes an annual, verifiable ethics refresher. Shawna will facilitate some discussion on APEGGS' Code of Ethics and how they relate to some recent cases with ethical dilemmas.

Attendees will be qualified to use this presentation as part of their ethics refresher training for 2019. There is no fee for this informative evening session. All the SES members are encouraged to attend the presentation. However, there is a limit on the number of attendees. Therefore, the reservation of spots will be done on a first come, first served basis by email to Zahra at zaj281@mail.usask.ca.
